GENERAL - WHAT	HOW	WHO	ACTIONS
Street Cleaning and Litter 	The table thought that the existing cleaning within the town was OK, but the approaches to the town were a problem. (Really? Many think it's filthy)	These areas are cleared by the County Council.	Ask LCC for cleaning to be done more frequently. Also ask if people on community service could be used to provide this service. (Alan Dixon on behalf of Mr Big)
Control Pigeons that roost in railway bridges 	Suggestions included shooting, netting, encouraging people not to feed the birds and conservation approaches - creating infertility in the birds through their feed.	Cleaning of the pigeon mess is job of the District Council, and Ken Bridger reported they do clean on a regular basis. Other interested party Network Rail, require that any netting put in place does not prevent easy access to the bridges for maintenance.	Ken Bridger reported that the netting on the Chapel Street bridge was being monitored as a trial by the District Council, and did give access for easy repair work. If a success, to be repeated on Queen Street bridge. Frustratingly - this new netting has been sabotaged by animal rights protestors. Shooting the pigeons has lead to animal rights protests in the past. Pigeons likely to be an ongoing battle Ken to report back on the progress of the current netting and if seen as successful enough be used on Queen Street.

Tackle Grot Spots 	Main grot spots identified - field opposite the Holy Rood Church, ideal spot for a car park on entrance to the town. Also corner of Chapel Street and Linwood Road, had Tesco promised to deal with this area? Railway bridge Co-op fence / bank car park		Write letters?
Tidy Up Vacant Shops 	Tackle landlords with a letter from 'MR BIG', politely putting pressure on. Add weight with a copy of letter to the Rasen Mail, to show business community and readers are watching. Reduce rents to help businesses set up in vacant shops. Vacant shop windows were also seen as a great display opportunity, to promote events and attractions. Local school could be approached to design posters for the vacant windows. Ask children to portray happy customers in 'life size' images, with prizes for kids.	MR BIG as a group	Quality letter writing to landlords on MR BIG stationery – tasks to be allocated
Seating	Ken Bridger reported that	Jacksons Building Centre	to look at benches in the town

Group Brainstorming Outputs

	benches were being repainted this year. Suggested that more seats in the market place welcome, though may lead to complaints of reduced parking spaces and more 'yoof' gathering. People may want to sponsor a bench in wills and have dedicated to a loved one?	?	and take on essential repair work.
Event Boards	The table identified the events board in the market square, which promoted local events, not businesses. Event notices were given to the town council to be placed in the board, which is maintained weekly. Concerns were raised that the board was not updated often enough, and out of date events were not removed.	Rob at Priceless	offered to update the board more frequently, if council were able to supply him with the event notices as soon as they came in.
Dog Poo	Confrontation of the owners at 'point of offence' - risky as some dog owners are quite aggressive if challenged. Press coverage of health hazards of mess (due to toxocariasis where dog poo can cause blindness). A public	Mr Big David Riley of J A D Associates offered to research toxocariasis and write to the Rasen Mail about this problem	Write to local police to request a dog warden does visit the town. Write to Rasen Mail to request the story is covered, including prosecutions. Award 'Good Dog' rosettes in

	shaming of the offenders zero tolerance as in drink driving. Local police team be contacted and asked if they could ensure a dog warden was in town and once this routine was in place, Sell and promote dog-poo bags, local bins are stocked with a supply of bags and perhaps the Pet Shop could offer a couple of free bags to anyone who walks in with a dog.	Local shops	Rasen Mail 3-4 doggies and owners photographed with rosettes. (added by email)
Flowers 	Flowers within the town (such as hanging baskets, large planters and flower beds) would best be left until the town itself was tidied up. Concern that flowers are an easy target for vandals. Approaches to the town could be made more attractive through planting	Ask Tesco to enhance the green bank at the side of Linwood Road, perhaps with a Jubilee theme of red, white and blue. Cllr Ken Bridger explained he had already approached Tesco with some Jubilee ideas for the town and requested that MR BIG did not detract from that with a second request.	Alan Dixon explained that the junction of the A631 and Gallamore Lane was seen as safe to cultivate, with the Market Rasen Lions and the Racecourse are already progressing the development of this area. Anyone else willing to tackle the other areas in the town?
CHRISTMAS TREES & LIGHTS	Main tree and lights for Market Square were in order for 2012. Small trees on stands with lights above every shop was still excellent idea given renewed enthusiasm for 2012.	Any leader for this – Sept start? Lincs Trees can assist set up with cherry picker.	High street traders should be approached to encourage use of flag pole trees, order these trees as a town with one supplier to negotiate discount. Extend to householders like
